7. Factors to consider when assessing evidence

Section 26 of the Act permits registration of a trade mark that would otherwise be prohibited by section 25 if a case on honest concurrent exists. When assessing whether a case of honest concurrent use exists, the following factors must be taken into account:

- The extent of use in duration, area and volume
- The degree of confusion likely between the trade marks in question
- Whether any instances of confusion have in fact occurred
- The honesty or otherwise of the concurrent use
- The relative inconvenience that would be caused to the respective parties if the applicant's trade mark were registered.

7.1 How intensive, geographically widespread and longstanding use of the mark has been

	Duration
	Applicant's Relevant Date ¹ (A)
	Date of first use of Applicant's mark in NZ (C)
	Duration of use of the mark, up until Applicant's Relevant Date
	Cited mark's Relevant Date ¹ (B)
	Period of concurrent use (duration between (A) and the later of
	(B) or (C) – note, prior use is irrelevant)
	Has there been continuous use in the market place?
	Geographical extent of use in NZ
	Area that applicant's mark services
	Geographical exposure of mark, including relevant timelines
	7.2 Sales and Volume

evidence diluted by the presence of other features?

Do the above figures only relate to the specified goods/services?

7.4 The market share held by the mark

(other than revenue/sales volume information).
7.5 Whether any instances of confusion have in fact o	ccurred?
Essential — Stat Dec/affidavit must include a statement indicating wheth instances of confusion	er they are aware of any actua
Does Stat Dec/affidavit include a sufficient confusion statement?
Have there been actual instances of confusion?
7.6 Honesty of the concurrent use
Has applicant adopted trade mark in honesty (for example, has applicant explained source of trade mark)?
Who are the declarants and how are they qualified to comment in the relevant industry? What relationship does the Applicant have with the declarant?

9. Examiner to consider relative inconvenience to each party if the mark is registered

Weigh relative the applicant's convenience with the cited mark's inconvenience
Will owner of cited mark be unduly inconvenienced if application is registered? (balance of probabilities

10. Examples of Use

Take screen shots or reference exhibits that demonstrate typical use of the mark (or diluted use of the mark) in relation to the specified goods/services

- 10.1 Use of the mark as filed
- 10.2 Diluted Use (if any)

11. Analysis summary

Use of the mark
Having assessed the exhibits, is there sufficient use of the mark as filed? Take into consideration how much use, if any, is potentially diluted by the presence of other trade marks.
New Zealand Marketplace
Is the mark being used in New Zealand in relation to the goods/services specified?
Goods/Services limitation required?
If use of the mark is not in relation to all goods/services specified, can a specification limitation assist with the application proceeding to acceptance? (insert specification limitation)
Relevant dates
Is there sufficient use (duration of concurrent use 3-5 year for example) of the mark before Applicant's Relevant Date?
Sales/Volume/Advertising Figures

This summary may not explicitly refer to every matter that has been considered by the Examiner.

Are the figures in relation to use of the mark as filed sufficiently significant?
Relative inconvenience to each party if applicant's mark is registered
Is use of the mark by the Applicant honest?
